BOTTOM LINE UP FRONT

VBH is solving problems through the Social Determinants of Health

Coordinating care using the Social Determinants of Health

VBH's coordinated care model assesses and addresses the social determinants of health (SDoH), acknowledging how housing instability, financial stress, employment disruption, and mental health challenges are deeply interconnected.

Needs do not exist in isolation. Connecting veterans to the full mix of services they need prevents crises, and lowers risk of suicide.

SUICIDE PREVENTION STARTS UPSTREAM

Human connection reduces isolation—an early intervention factor in suicide prevention. We initiate outreach early, meeting veterans where they are and getting them connected before challenges become crises.

A Review of the Staff Sergeant Parker Gordon Fox Suicide Prevention Program:

The Staff Sergeant Gordon Parker Fox Suicide Prevention Program (SSG Fox SPGP) pairs at-risk veterans and their families with a dedicated care navigator for six months of one-on-one support, connecting them to mental health care and the resources they need to stay safe and stable.

In the last six months, 958 veterans and family members were screened for suicide risk. 165 were identified as at risk and qualified for the program. 86 enrolled in the program, and 34 completed it.

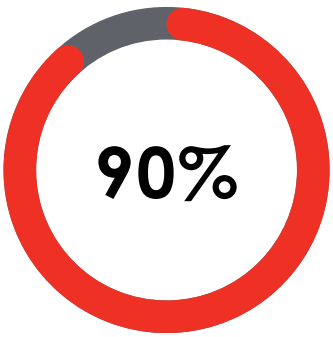
73% of clients showed measureable improvement in depression upon graduation.



Satisfaction

90% of SSG Fox SPGP graduates say they'd recommend VBH to another veteran.
